Battle tested

Advanced multi-layer foam system engineered to absorb and disperse impact energy at the point of contact. It delivers superior knuckle protection, enhanced comfort, and consistent performance during intense training and sparring. Designed for fighters who demand maximum safety without sacrificing power or feel.

Force

FORCE is a professional manufacturer of combat sports equipment and sportswear, specializing in boxing gloves, protective gear, and performance apparel. With our own production facilities, we maintain full control over quality, materials, and manufacturing standards at every stage of the process.

We develop and distribute our own brands, and we also provide custom manufacturing and private label services for partners worldwide. Our flexible production capabilities allow us to support both established brands and growing businesses looking to expand their product lines.

FORCE is open to long-term cooperation with distributors, sports brands, clubs, and retail partners.

If you are looking for a reliable production partner with proven experience in combat sports equipment, we are ready to work with you.
